Human knowledge develops with scientists' hard work. Many great men and women try hard o find facts, solve problems and invent things.
Some of these scientists did not have easy lives. But they tried hard when they were working n problems. They never felt weak when they were studying. They never gave up when they were doing research. There are great stories about scientists and their lives. One such a story is about Thomas Edison. As a young boy, Edison was very interested in science. He was very nergetic and always asked questions. Sadly, young Edison lost his hearing at the age of 12. He did not attend school and learned science by reading books in the library himself.
