PASSAGE 1:

Urban Art is gradually assuming an increasingly significant role in the development of a city's character, something which is often promoted by public institutions. This has been strongly instigated by the rhetoric of creative cities, present in the strategies for the urban development of many cities in recent years. The rising appreciation of this artistic movement and the recognition of the cultural and symbolic role it currently plays are accompanied by a growing offer of tourism services in this field, namely, through dozens of tours operated by multiple entities. The literature has, in fact, been paying some attention to this phenomenon of touristification of Urban Art.

In this article, we draw on qualitative empirical material from an ongoing research project on Urban Art in the city of Lisbon. We consider the touristification of Urban Art in Lisbon to be a recent and still ongoing process involving several social actors with specific perspectives, strategies, actions and representations. We have concluded that there is currently a combination of social and economic factors favorable to the development of this process of touristification. This could not have happened without (a) a number of institutional initiatives, (b) local entrepreneurship ventures and (c) the development of a narrative shared by the different agents.

11- Which of the following would be the best title for the passage?

PASSAGE 2:

The global medical tourism market is segmented by treatment type (cosmetic treatment, dental treatment, cardiovascular treatment, orthopedics treatment, fertility treatment, and ophthalmic treatment) and geography (North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, Middle East & Africa, and South America). [1] The report offers the value (in USD million) for the above segments. The global medical tourism market was valued at USD 31,532.43 million in 2021, and it is expected to reach USD 54,201.88 million by 2027, with a CAGR of $11.23 \%$ during the forecast period, 2022-2027.

Due to significant uncertainty in demand for certain products for medical and industrial applications, as well as increased variability in supply chain and manufacturing productivity, the unprecedented nature of the COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on the global economy has disrupted various businesses. [2] The COVID 19 pandemic has had a negative impact on major medical tourism markets, including popular medical tourism destinations such as India, China, and other emerging countries. [3] Furthermore, due to the global pandemic, significant travel restrictions were implemented, including the suspension of cross-border travel, bringing cross-country travel to a halt and negatively impacting the medical tourism market growth.

The factors associated with the growth of the market include higher treatment costs in developed countries, availability of the latest medical technologies, growing compliance with international quality standards, high quality of service, and advertising and marketing of medical tourism. [4]

16- Based on which factors is the global medical tourism market categorized by?

2) Treatment type and revenue
3) Geography and season
4) Revenue and season

1) significant uncertainty
2) the COVID-19 pandemic
3) the unprecedented nature
4) manufacturing productivity

19- The passage refers to all of the following as the factors associated with the growth of medical tourism market EXCEPT $\qquad$

1) health insurance portability
2) higher treatment costs in developed countries
3) availability of the latest medical technologies
4) growing compliance with international quality standards

20- In which of the positions marked by [1], [2], [3], or [4] in the passage can the following sentence be inserted?
The medical tourism industry has been hit hard by the COVID-19 pandemic that has swept the globe.

1) $[1]$
2) $[2]$
3) $[3]$
4) $[4]$

PASSAGE 3:

From April 2020 onwards, tourism in Latin America and the Caribbean has come to a temporary standstill as a result of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic. However, countries and subregions have been affected differently. The infection rates and victims illustrate this, keeping in mind that countries vary in their testing intensity. In terms of number of COVID-19 confirmed deaths per 100,000 populations, eight countries in the region are among the 20 most affected countries in the world. Furthermore, in the Caribbean, the COVID-19 pandemic is occurring at a time when countries have already been hit by various economic and natural shocks, including hurricanes and other extreme weather events, high levels of indebtedness, and limited access to concessional funding while facing a new hurricane season.

Tourism has been one of the fastest and hardest hit sectors of the economy. According to the UN World Tourism Organization (UNWTO, 2020), international tourist arrivals may fall between $60 \%$ and $80 \%$. This sector is not only one of the main contributors to exports, the economy and employment in the Caribbean, but also in many cities and local communities in Latin America. Considering the high uncertainty about the duration of the pandemic in different parts of the region, and associated contingency and subsequent relaxation measures, it is difficult to estimate the short, medium and long-term impacts of the pandemic on tourism.

In this paper, the contribution of tourism to exports, gross domestic product (GDP), and employment is reviewed, together with the recent downturn in this activity in the region. An impact scenario shows that the slump in tourism may cause total GDP growth in the Caribbean and Latin America to fall by 8 percentage points and 1 percentage point, respectively, while the total employment rate could potentially decline by 7 percentage points in the Caribbean and 1 percentage point in Latin America. As countries have taken measures to mitigate the impact of the crisis on tourism, recommendations are provided to step up the sector's preparation for the economic recovery, while enhancing diversification as well as environmental and social sustainability.

21- What is the passage mainly about?

1) Confirmed deaths per 100,000 populations in eight countries
2) The effect of the COVID-19 pandemic on countries and subregions
3) The contribution of tourism to exports, gross domestic product (GDP), and employment
4) The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the tourism sector in Latin America and the Caribbean
22- The underlined "their" in paragraph 1 refers to
5) victims
6) subregions
7) countries
8) the infection rates

23- The passage refers to all of the following economic and natural shocks EXCEPT ---------.

1) hurricanes
2) earthquakes
3) limited access to concessional funding
4) high levels of indebtedness

24- The rate of total employment decline in the Caribbean and in Latin America is EXCEPT to be ----------, respectively.

1) 1 and 7
2) 1 and 8
3) 7 and 1
4) 8 and 1

25- The word "mitigate" in paragraph 3 is similar in meaning to ---------.

1) diminish
2) abandon
3) conceive
4) facilitate
