Adverbs

We use adjectives to describe nouns (things). We use adverbs to describe verbs (actions).

Some adverbs are irregular. Good changes to well and fast becomes fast. We put adverbs at the end of a sentence, or after a verb. Compare with adjectives.

Adjective He is a slow runner. She is a fast walker.

Adverb He runs slowly. She walks fast.

Present perfect affirmative and negative

	Affirmative	Short form	Negative
I/you/we/you/they	have finished	've finished	haven't finished
he/she/it	has finished	's finished	hasn't finished

We use the present perfect to talk about something that happened very recently.

I've sent you a message.

We've finished our homework.

We also use the present perfect to talk about an action in the past that is still true now.

It's very clean in here Yes, Amy's tidied up!

We normally use the short form, especially in conversation.

We form the present perfect with has or have + past participle.

In many cases, the past participle (finished) is the same as the past simple form. However, many verbs have irregular past participle forms, e.g. do → done, have → had.

There is a list at the back of this book on page 80.

1 Change the base forms into past participles.

1 make made

Present perfect questions and short answers

Has Fin tidied up? Yes, he has. / No, he hasn't.

5 Look at the sentences. Write questions. Use the present perfect.

Relative pronouns: who and which

Object pronouns

When a pronoun is the subject of a sentence, we use subject pronouns (I, you, he, she, it, we, you, they).

I like him.

When a pronoun is the object of a verb, we use direct object pronouns (me, you, him, her, it, us, you, them).

I like him. Play with us.

We also use a direct object pronoun instead of a noun.

She bought the bananas. She used them to make a smoothie.

(them = the bananas)

With verbs that have two parts, like switch on and chop up, we put the pronoun after the verb.

Switch it on. Chop them up.

The past simple and the past continuous

They were walking to Toby's party when it started to rain.

We use the past continuous with the past simple when we want to talk about something that happened in the middle of another, longer, action. Look at these sentences:

Past continuous

Past simple

I was walking to the shops. It started to rain.

We can make these two actions into one sentence by connecting them with when.
I was walking to the shops when it started to rain.

We can use when in the middle or at the beginning of the sentence. If we put it at the beginning, we must put a comma (,) after the first part of the sentence.

The phone rang when Mr Taylor was talking to his boss.

When Mr Taylor was talking to his boss, the phone rang.

1 Circle the shorter action that happened in the middle of another, longer one.

- 3 When Tim was running for the ball, he fell over.

- 5 Everyone was waiting when I walked into the room.
- 6 When I woke up, my brother was doing his homework.
- 7 George and William were buying CDs when they heard the alarm.

He _____ (read) a magazine when someone _____ (take) his bag.

Edward _____ (play) football when he _____ (hurt) his leg.
